

PRESS RELEASE 30 September 04

New People Appointments

DAVID WILSON has been appointed Sales Manager at STANDEN ENGINEERING LTD with responsibility for UK sales of STANDEN-PEARSON Potato Systems and STANDEN cultivation equipment products.

Previously with G&J Peck at Ely, David has been with STANDEN for more than five years, most recently as Eastern Area Manager. His experience working in manufacturing, assembly, parts, service, and demonstration departments at STANDEN makes him uniquely qualified for the newly created position of Sales Manager.

The appointment is one of several made as a result of the success and growth STANDEN has achieved with products acquired from Dowdeswell, Richard Pearson and Standen Reflex. David is 32, recently married, and lists hockey among his many hobbies.

GRAHAM PARKINSON is promoted to Progress Control Manager at STANDEN ENGINEERING LTD, responsible for controlling and co-ordinating manufacture of all STANDEN and PEARSON products at the Ely factory.

Considerable experience gained previously during 34 years with Richard Pearson in accounts, parts, attachments departments, as Works Manager and finally General Manager makes Graham an effective and highly valued member of the STANDEN production team.

Graham has played a vital role ensuring the smooth transfer of PEARSON products to Ely. He continues to help improve product quality, production efficiency and 'on-time' delivery, keeping customers satisfied worldwide.

Married to his wife Kath, Graham has one daughter and two sons currently at university.
